JOB SATISFACTION AMONG THE PROVIDERS OF TERTIARY HEALTH CARE IN HARYANA

The present study on the topic “JOB SATISFACTION AMONG THE PROVIDERS OF TERTIARY HEALTH CARE IN HARYANA” has been spread over six chapters. The first two chapters reflect upon the secondary research and the rest of the chapters are based on the primary research. To be precise, the first chapter has dealt at length with introduction and research methodology used in this research work. The chapter II has dealt with the profile of the selected institutions. The chapter III highlights the Tertiary Health Care: Job Satisfaction Among the Doctors. The chapter IV deals with the Job Satisfaction among the Nurses in Tertiary Health Care Institutions. The chapter V evaluates the job satisfaction of the Para Medical staff in the Tertiary Health care institutions and the last chapter VI, presented some findings and recommendations. The study has been conducted in two Tertiary health

The statements/questions were asked under two domains i.e. job expectations and employees conduct and the working conditions to the respondents and thereafter the findings and suggestions were formulated.